Short description

COYO is a social intranet and the "digital home" of more than 350 companies, including Deutsche Bahn, E.ON, Asklepios and Ritter SPORT. As an Employee Engagement Suite, COYO connects all employees within a company and thus improves internal communication and (digital) collaboration. The company stands for B2B software with nice design and an extraordinary user experience. In recent years, COYO has become one of the leading companies in the intranet software market. In addition to the Social Intranet, the company also offers an employee app (COYO Engage), ensuring all employees can be reached at any time and any place - even those who do not work with a computer every day.
